

Nasdaq and Him For Her

Accelerating Diversity on Corporate Boards

Him For Her is a social impact venture dedicated to accelerating diversity on corporate boards to inspire better business. They work to create systemic change by engaging leading “Hims” to connect the world’s “Hers” to board service — unlocking and inspiring an increase in equality of opportunity for women.

Since its founding in 2018, Him For Her has built a referral-only talent network of 3500+ board-ready women, a third of whom are women of color, and delivered board-referral lists to 750+ companies ranging from start-ups to S&P 100.

Him For Her is committed to supporting companies in their efforts to diversify their board of directors – providing diverse curated sets of candidates and facilitating warm introductions.

RESOURCES & VALUE

Him For Her offers an easy and frictionless way to find candidates for your board search by bridging the gap between board opportunities and women ready for board service.

Tapping the organization's referral-only talent network, Him For Her provides referrals to meet your search criteria and then facilitates introductions.

3,500+

Board-ready women

750+

Companies received board referrals

Him For Her Board Referrals help for-profit companies, of any size or stage, looking to add a new director to the board.

Nasdaq Platforms companies may access Him for Her’s referral service in order to receive curated referrals to talented female executives.

Him For Her will provide referrals, based on company search criteria, at no charge. Introductions are then facilitated based upon mutual interest.

Companies may choose to make a tax-deductible donation to Him For Her to support their work as a non-profit.

Share An Open Role

Sharing an open board role is easy. Simply visit the following site and mention that Nasdaq referred you:

<https://www.himforher.org/index.html#Nominations>.

For questions or additional information regarding these benefits please contact your Relationship Manager or Account Director or our Head of Director Experience, Vanessa.Mesics@nasdaq.com.