3. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

a. Purpose

NASDAQ proposes to modify Chapter XV, entitled "Options Pricing," at Section 2(1) governing the rebates and fees assessed for option orders entered into NOM. The Exchange is proposing to amend the Customer and Professional Rebates to Add Liquidity in Penny Pilot Options by adding an additional rebate tier to attract additional order flow to the Exchange to the benefit of all market participants. The Exchange believes that increasing the current rebate will attract additional Customer and Professional order flow.

The Exchange proposes to amend the Customer and Professional Rebates to Add Liquidity in Penny Pilot Options from a five tier rebate structure to a six tier rebate structure. Today, the Exchange pays Customer and Professional Rebates to Add Liquidity in Penny Pilot Options as follows:

Monthly Volume	Rebate to Add Liquidity
Tier 1 Participant adds Customer and Professional liquidity of up to 34,999 contracts per day in a month	$0.26
Tier 2 Participant adds Customer and Professional liquidity of 35,000 to 74,999 contracts per day in a month	$0.43
Tier 3 Participant adds Customer and Professional liquidity of 75,000 or more contracts per day in a month	$0.44
Tier 4 Participant adds (1) Customer and Professional liquidity of 25,000 or more contracts per day in a month, (2) the Participant has certified for the Investor Support Program set forth in Rule 7014; and (3) the Participant executed at least one order on NASDAQ's equity market	$0.42
Tier 5 Participant has Total Volume of 130,000 or more contracts per day in a month	$0.46

The Exchange proposes to amend Tier 1 which currently pays a $0.26 per contract Rebate to Add Liquidity in Penny Pilot Options to Participants that add Customer and Professional liquidity of up to 34,999 contracts per day in a month and offer the same $0.26 per contract rebate to Participants that add Customer and Professional liquidity of up to a decreased 24,999 contracts per day in a month. The Exchange proposes to add another rebate tier as new "Tier 2" and pay a $0.40 per contract Rebate to Add Liquidity in Penny Pilot Options to Participants that add Customer and Professional liquidity of 25,000 to 34,999 contracts per day in a month. The Exchange would renumber current Tiers 2 through 5 as Tiers 3 through 6. The Exchange would also renumber corresponding notes a, b and c.

Participants that add Customer and Professional liquidity between 25,000 to 34,999 contracts per day in a month today receive a $0.26 per contract rebate. Pursuant to this proposal, these Participants would receive a $0.40 per contract rebate for adding Customer and Professional liquidity between 25,000 to 34,999 contracts per day in a month.

b. Statutory Basis

NASDAQ believes that the proposed rule changes are consistent with the provisions of Section 6 of the Act,<sup>4</sup> in general, and with Section 6(b)(4) of the Act,<sup>5</sup> in particular, in that they provide for the equitable allocation of reasonable dues, fees and other charges among members and issuers and other persons using any facility or system which NASDAQ operates or controls.

The Exchange believes that increasing the Customer and Professional Rebates to Add Liquidity in Penny Pilot Options for Participants that add Customer and Professional liquidity between 25,000 and 34,999 contracts per day in a month from $0.26 to $0.40 per contract is reasonable because the increased rebate should encourage Participants to transact a greater number of Customer and Professional orders on NOM. The Exchange believes the existing monthly volume thresholds have incentivized Participants to increase Customer and Professional order flow to the Exchange. The Exchange desires to continue to encourage Participants to route Customer and Professional orders to the Exchange by offering increased Customer and Professional Rebates to Add Liquidity in Penny Pilot Options for Participants adding between 25,000 to 34,999 contracts of Customer and Professional liquidity.

The Exchange believes that increasing the Customer and Professional Rebates to Add Liquidity in Penny Pilot Options for Participants that add Customer and Professional liquidity between 25,000 and 34,999 contracts per day in a month from $0.26 to $0.40 per contract is equitable and not unfairly discriminatory because the Exchange is proposing to offer an even higher Customer and Professional rebate in Penny Pilot Options to all Participants that qualify for new Tier 2. All NOM Participants that transact Customer and Professional orders in Penny Pilot Options are and will continue to be eligible for the Customer and Professional rebates.<sup>6</sup>

The Exchange believes that its proposal to amend Tier 1 to reduce the number of contracts from “up to 34,999 contracts per day in a month” to “up to 24,999 contracts per day in a month” of Customer and Professional liquidity to qualify for the Tier 1 rebate is reasonable because as mentioned above the Exchange is increasing the rebate for those contracts between 25,000 to 34,999 to attract additional Customer and Professional order flow in Penny Pilot Options to the Exchange. The Exchange believes that its proposal to amend Tier 1 to reduce the number of contracts from “up to 34,999 contracts per day in a month” to “up to 24,999 contracts per day in a month” of Customer and Professional liquidity to qualify for the Tier 1 rebate is equitable and not unfairly discriminatory because, as mentioned, all Participants that transact one Customer or one Professional order in Penny Pilot Options would continue to qualify for the Tier 1 rebate. Those Participants that transact between 25,000 to 34,999 contracts per day in a month of

<sup>6</sup> Pursuant to this proposal, Tier 1 pays a rebate of $0.26 per contract to NOM Participants that add Customer and Professional liquidity of up to 24,999 contracts per day in a month of Penny Pilot Options. There is no required minimum volume of Customer and Professional orders to qualify for the Customer or Professional Rebate to Add Liquidity in Penny Pilot Options.

Customer and Professional liquidity would earn an even greater rebate pursuant to this proposal.

The Exchange believes that paying Customers and Professionals a tiered Rebate to Add Liquidity in Penny Pilot Options, as proposed herein, is equitable and not unfairly discriminatory as compared to other market participants. The Exchange pays the highest Rebates to Add Liquidity in Penny Pilot Options to Customers and Professionals as compared to other market participants, with the exception of the Tier 1 rebate. NOM Market Makers are entitled to a higher $0.30 per contract Rebate to Add Liquidity in Penny Pilot Options as compared to the Customer and Professional rebate in Tier 1 because NOM Market Makers add value through continuous quoting<sup>7</sup> and the commitment of capital. With respect to the proposed rebates in Tiers 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6, Customers and Professionals earn higher rebates as compared to a NOM Market Makers. Also, a Customer and a Professional are paid higher Rebates to Add Liquidity in Penny Pilot Options in all proposed tiers as compared to a Firm,<sup>8</sup> Broker-Dealer<sup>9</sup> and Non-NOM

<sup>7</sup> Pursuant to Chapter VII (Market Participants), Section 5 (Obligations of Market Makers), in registering as a market maker, an Options Participant commits himself to various obligations. Transactions of a Market Maker in its market making capacity must constitute a course of dealings reasonably calculated to contribute to the maintenance of a fair and orderly market, and Market Makers should not make bids or offers or enter into transactions that are inconsistent with such course of dealings. Further, all Market Makers are designated as specialists on NOM for all purposes under the Act or rules thereunder. See Chapter VII, Section 5.

Market Maker.<sup>10</sup> The Exchange believes that Customers are entitled to higher rebates because Customer order flow brings unique benefits to the market through increased liquidity which benefits all market participants. The Exchange believes that paying Professionals higher Tier 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6 rebates as compared to NOM Market Makers and paying Professionals higher rebates as compared to Firms, Broker-Dealers and Non-NOM Market Makers with any tier is equitable and not unfairly discriminatory because the Exchange does not believe that the amount of the rebate offered by the Exchange has a material impact on a Participant's ability to execute orders in Penny Pilot Options. The Exchange has been assessing the impact of rebates since it first began to offer them and has also observed the impact of fees and rebates on other options exchanges in terms of quoting and liquidity. The Exchange believes that the Fees for Adding Liquidity in Penny Pilot Options, as compared to Rebates to Add Liquidity, impact a market participant's decision-making more prominently with respect to posting order flow on different venues and price. In modifying its rebates, the Exchange hopes to simply remain competitive with other venues so that it remains a choice for market participants when posting orders and the result may be additional Professional order flow for the Exchange, in addition to increased Customer order flow. In addition, a NOM Participant may not be able to gauge the exact rebate tier it would qualify for until the end of the month because Professional volume would be commingled with Customer volume in calculating tier volume. Other market participants have a known rebate rate at which they would execute the entire month. A Professional could only otherwise presume the Tier 1 rebate would be achieved in a month when determining price. Further, the Exchange initially established Professional pricing in order to “...bring additional revenue to the Exchange.”<sup>11</sup> The Exchange noted in the Professional Filing that it believes “...that the increased revenue from the proposal would assist the Exchange to recoup fixed costs.”<sup>12</sup> The Exchange also noted in that filing that it believes that establishing separate pricing for a Professional, which ranges between that of a customer and market maker, accomplishes this objective.<sup>13</sup> The Exchange does not believe that providing Professionals with the opportunity to obtain higher rebates equivalent to that of a Customer creates a competitive environment where Professionals would be necessarily advantaged on NOM as compared to other NOM Market Makers, Firms, Broker-Dealers or Non-NOM Market Makers. First, a Professional is assessed the same fees as other market participants, except Customers.<sup>14</sup> Second, a Professional only has the opportunity to achieve the higher rebate by sending in more than 24,999 contracts per day in a month, otherwise the Professional only achieves a Tier 1 rebate with at least one trade and the

In this filing, the Exchange addressed the perceived favorable pricing of Professionals who were assessed fees and paid rebates like a Customer prior to the filing. The Exchange noted in that filing that a Professional, unlike a retail Customer, has access to sophisticated trading systems that contain functionality not available to retail Customers.

The Exchange noted in this filing that it believes the role of the retail Customer in the marketplace is distinct from that of the Professional and the Exchange’s fee proposal at that time accounted for this distinction by pricing each market participant according to their roles and obligations.

differential in that scenario as between market participants remains the same.<sup>15</sup> The Exchange recognizes that the rebate tiers provide an incentive to Professionals, but it is not a guaranteed rebate.

4. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Burden on Competition

NASDAQ does not believe that the proposed rule changes will result in any burden on competition that is not necessary or appropriate in furtherance of the purposes of the Act, as amended. Customers have traditionally been paid the highest rebates offered by options exchanges. While the Exchange's proposal would also result in a Professional receiving higher rebates as compared to a NOM Market Maker if a Professional qualified for a Tier 2, 3, 4, 5 or 6 rebate and the differential in rebates would increase as between a Professional and a Firm, a Broker-Dealer and a Non-NOM Market Maker with this proposal, the Exchange does not believe the proposed rebate tiers would result in any burden on competition as between market participants on NOM. The Exchange does not believe that the amount of the rebate offered by the Exchange has a material impact on a Participant's ability to execute orders in Penny Pilot Options. The Exchange has been assessing the impact of rebates since it first began to offer them and has also observed the impact of fees and rebates on other options exchanges in terms of quoting and liquidity. The Exchange believes that the Fees for Adding Liquidity, as compared to rebates, impact a market participant's decision-making more prominently with respect to posting order flow on different venues and price. The Exchange does not believe that allowing a Professional to obtain a higher rebate as compared to other market

<sup>15</sup> If a Professional earned a Tier 1 rebate, the Professional would continue to receive a lower rebate as compared to a NOM Market Maker and a higher rebate as compared to a Firm, Broker-Dealer and a Non-NOM Market Maker, as is the case today.

participants, if a certain number of contracts were to be executed on the Exchange, results in a burden on competition among market participants on NOM for the reasons noted herein.

The Exchange believes that offering Customers and Professionals the proposed tiered rebates creates competition among options exchanges because the Exchange believes that the rebates may cause market participants to select NOM as a venue to send Customer and Professional order flow. The Exchange is offering to pay increased rebates for Customer and Professional liquidity between 25,000 to 34,999 contracts per day in a month, which additional order flow should benefit other market participants.

The Exchange operates in a highly competitive market comprised of eleven U.S. options exchanges in which sophisticated and knowledgeable market participants can readily send order flow to competing exchanges if they deem fee levels at a particular exchange to be excessive. The Exchange believes that the proposed rebate structure and tiers are competitive with rebates and tiers in place on other exchanges. The Exchange believes that this competitive marketplace impacts the rebates present on the Exchange today and substantially influences the proposals set forth above.

A. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

1. Purpose

NASDAQ proposes to modify Chapter XV, entitled “Options Pricing,” at Section 2(1) governing the rebates and fees assessed for option orders entered into NOM. The Exchange is proposing to amend the Customer and Professional Rebates to Add Liquidity in Penny Pilot Options by adding an additional rebate tier to attract additional order flow to the Exchange to the benefit of all market participants. The Exchange believes that increasing the current rebate will attract additional Customer and Professional order flow.

The Exchange proposes to amend the Customer and Professional Rebates to Add Liquidity in Penny Pilot Options from a five tier rebate structure to a six tier rebate structure. Today, the Exchange pays Customer and Professional Rebates to Add Liquidity in Penny Pilot Options as follows:

Monthly Volume	Rebate to Add Liquidity
Tier 1 Participant adds Customer and Professional liquidity of up to 34,999 contracts per day in a month	$0.26
Tier 2 Participant adds Customer and Professional liquidity of 35,000 to 74,999 contracts per day in a month	$0.43
Tier 3 Participant adds Customer and Professional liquidity of 75,000 or more contracts per day in a month	$0.44
Tier 4 Participant adds (1) Customer and Professional liquidity of 25,000 or more contracts per day in a month, (2) the Participant has certified for the Investor Support Program set forth in Rule 7014; and (3) the Participant executed at least one order on NASDAQ's equity market	$0.42
Tier 5 Participant has Total Volume of 130,000 or more contracts per day in a month	$0.46

The Exchange proposes to amend Tier 1 which currently pays a $0.26 per contract Rebate to Add Liquidity in Penny Pilot Options to Participants that add Customer and Professional liquidity of up to 34,999 contracts per day in a month and offer the same $0.26 per contract rebate to Participants that add Customer and Professional liquidity of up to a decreased 24,999 contracts per day in a month. The Exchange proposes to add another rebate tier as new “Tier 2” and pay a $0.40 per contract Rebate to Add Liquidity in Penny Pilot Options to Participants that add Customer and Professional liquidity of 25,000 to 34,999 contracts per day in a month. The Exchange would renumber current Tiers 2 through 5 as Tiers 3 through 6. The Exchange would also renumber corresponding notes a, b and c.

Participants that add Customer and Professional liquidity between 25,000 to 34,999 contracts per day in a month today receive a $0.26 per contract rebate. Pursuant to this proposal, these Participants would receive a $0.40 per contract rebate for adding Customer and Professional liquidity between 25,000 to 34,999 contracts per day in a month.

2. Statutory Basis

NASDAQ believes that the proposed rule changes are consistent with the provisions of Section 6 of the Act,<sup>4</sup> in general, and with Section 6(b)(4) of the Act,<sup>5</sup> in particular, in that they provide for the equitable allocation of reasonable dues, fees and other charges among members and issuers and other persons using any facility or system which NASDAQ operates or controls.

The Exchange believes that increasing the Customer and Professional Rebates to Add Liquidity in Penny Pilot Options for Participants that add Customer and Professional liquidity between 25,000 and 34,999 contracts per day in a month from $0.26 to $0.40 per contract is reasonable because the increased rebate should encourage Participants to transact a greater number of Customer and Professional orders on NOM. The Exchange believes the existing monthly volume thresholds have incentivized Participants to increase Customer and Professional order flow to the Exchange. The Exchange desires to continue to encourage Participants to route Customer and Professional orders to the Exchange by offering increased Customer and Professional Rebates to Add Liquidity in Penny Pilot Options for Participants adding between 25,000 to 34,999 contracts of Customer and Professional liquidity.

The Exchange believes that increasing the Customer and Professional Rebates to Add Liquidity in Penny Pilot Options for Participants that add Customer and Professional liquidity between 25,000 and 34,999 contracts per day in a month from $0.26 to $0.40 per contract is equitable and not unfairly discriminatory because the Exchange is proposing to offer an even higher Customer and Professional rebate in Penny Pilot Options to all Participants that qualify for new Tier 2. All NOM Participants that transact Customer and Professional orders in Penny Pilot Options are and will continue to be eligible for the Customer and Professional rebates.<sup>6</sup>

The Exchange believes that its proposal to amend Tier 1 to reduce the number of contracts from “up to 34,999 contracts per day in a month” to “up to 24,999 contracts per day in a month” of Customer and Professional liquidity to qualify for the Tier 1 rebate is reasonable because as mentioned above the Exchange is increasing the rebate for those contracts between 25,000 to 34,999 to attract additional Customer and Professional order flow in Penny Pilot Options to the Exchange. The Exchange believes that its proposal to amend Tier 1 to reduce the number of contracts from “up to 34,999 contracts per day in a month” to “up to 24,999 contracts per day in a month” of Customer and Professional liquidity to qualify for the Tier 1 rebate is equitable and not unfairly discriminatory because, as mentioned, all Participants that transact one Customer or one Professional order in Penny Pilot Options would continue to qualify for the Tier 1 rebate. Those Participants that transact between 25,000 to 34,999 contracts per day in a month of Customer and Professional liquidity would earn an even greater rebate pursuant to this proposal.

The Exchange believes that paying Customers and Professionals a tiered Rebate to Add Liquidity in Penny Pilot Options, as proposed herein, is equitable and not unfairly discriminatory as compared to other market participants. The Exchange pays the highest Rebates to Add Liquidity in Penny Pilot Options to Customers and Professionals as compared to other market participants, with the exception of the Tier 1 rebate. NOM Market Makers are entitled to a higher $0.30 per contract Rebate to Add Liquidity in Penny Pilot Options as compared to the Customer and Professional rebate in Tier 1 because NOM Market Makers add value through continuous quoting<sup>7</sup> and the

<sup>7</sup> Pursuant to Chapter VII (Market Participants), Section 5 (Obligations of Market Makers), in registering as a market maker, an Options Participant commits himself to various obligations. Transactions of a Market Maker in its market making capacity must constitute a course of dealings reasonably calculated to contribute to the maintenance of a fair and orderly market, and Market Makers should not make bids or offers or enter into transactions that are inconsistent with such course of dealings. Further, all Market Makers are designated as specialists commitment of capital. With respect to the proposed rebates in Tiers 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6, Customers and Professionals earn higher rebates as compared to a NOM Market Makers. Also, a Customer and a Professional are paid higher Rebates to Add Liquidity in Penny Pilot Options in all proposed tiers as compared to a Firm,<sup>8</sup> Broker-Dealer<sup>9</sup> and Non-NOM Market Maker.<sup>10</sup> The Exchange believes that Customers are entitled to higher rebates because Customer order flow brings unique benefits to the market through increased liquidity which benefits all market participants. The Exchange believes that paying Professionals higher Tier 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6 rebates as compared to NOM Market Makers and paying Professionals higher rebates as compared to Firms, Broker-Dealers and Non-NOM Market Makers with any tier is equitable and not unfairly discriminatory because the Exchange does not believe that the amount of the rebate offered by the Exchange has a material impact on a Participant's ability to execute orders in Penny Pilot Options. The Exchange has been assessing the impact of rebates since it first began to offer them and has also observed the impact of fees and rebates on other options exchanges in terms of quoting and liquidity. The Exchange believes that the Fees for Adding Liquidity in Penny Pilot Options, as compared to Rebates to Add Liquidity, impact a market participant's decision-making more prominently with respect to posting order flow on different venues and price. In modifying its rebates, the Exchange hopes to simply remain competitive with other venues so that it remains a choice for market participants when posting orders and the result may be additional Professional order flow for the Exchange, in addition to increased Customer order flow. In addition, a NOM Participant may not be able to gauge the exact rebate tier it would qualify for until the end of the month because Professional volume would be commingled with Customer volume in calculating tier volume. Other market participants have a known rebate rate at which they would execute the entire month. A Professional could only otherwise presume the Tier 1 rebate would be achieved in a month when determining price. Further, the Exchange initially established Professional pricing in order to "...bring additional revenue to the Exchange."<sup>11</sup> The Exchange noted in the Professional Filing that it believes "...that the increased revenue from the proposal would assist the Exchange to recoup fixed costs."<sup>12</sup> The Exchange also noted in that filing that it believes that establishing separate pricing for a Professional, which ranges between that of a customer and market maker, accomplishes this objective.<sup>13</sup> The Exchange does not believe that

on NOM for all purposes under the Act or rules thereunder. See Chapter VII, Section 5.

In this filing, the Exchange addressed the perceived favorable pricing of Professionals who were assessed fees and paid rebates like a Customer prior to the filing. The Exchange noted in that filing that a Professional, unlike a retail Customer, has access to sophisticated trading systems that contain functionality not available to retail Customers.

The Exchange noted in this filing that it believes the role of the retail Customer in the marketplace is distinct from that of the Professional and the Exchange's fee proposal at that time accounted for this providing Professionals with the opportunity to obtain higher rebates equivalent to that of a Customer creates a competitive environment where Professionals would be necessarily advantaged on NOM as compared to other NOM Market Makers, Firms, Broker-Dealers or Non-NOM Market Makers. First, a Professional is assessed the same fees as other market participants, except Customers.<sup>14</sup> Second, a Professional only has the opportunity to achieve the higher rebate by sending in more than 24,999 contracts per day in a month, otherwise the Professional only achieves a Tier 1 rebate with at least one trade and the differential in that scenario as between market participants remains the same.<sup>15</sup> The Exchange recognizes that the rebate tiers provide an incentive to Professionals, but it is not a guaranteed rebate.

B. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Burden on Competition

NASDAQ does not believe that the proposed rule changes will result in any burden on competition that is not necessary or appropriate in furtherance of the purposes of the Act, as amended. Customers have traditionally been paid the highest rebates offered by options exchanges. While the Exchange's proposal would also result in a Professional receiving higher rebates as compared to a NOM Market Maker if a Professional qualified for a Tier 2, 3, 4, 5 or 6 rebate and the differential in rebates would increase as between a Professional and a Firm, a Broker-Dealer and a Non-NOM Market distinction by pricing each market participant according to their roles and obligations.

<sup>14</sup> The Fee for Removing Liquidity in Penny Pilot Options is $0.47 per contract for all market participants, except Customers.

<sup>15</sup> If a Professional earned a Tier 1 rebate, the Professional would continue to receive a lower rebate as compared to a NOM Market Maker and a higher rebate as compared to a Firm, Broker-Dealer and a Non-NOM Market Maker, as is the case today.

Maker with this proposal, the Exchange does not believe the proposed rebate tiers would result in any burden on competition as between market participants on NOM. The Exchange does not believe that the amount of the rebate offered by the Exchange has a material impact on a Participant's ability to execute orders in Penny Pilot Options. The Exchange has been assessing the impact of rebates since it first began to offer them and has also observed the impact of fees and rebates on other options exchanges in terms of quoting and liquidity. The Exchange believes that the Fees for Adding Liquidity, as compared to rebates, impact a market participant's decision-making more prominently with respect to posting order flow on different venues and price. The Exchange does not believe that allowing a Professional to obtain a higher rebate as compared to other market participants, if a certain number of contracts were to be executed on the Exchange, results in a burden on competition among market participants on NOM for the reasons noted herein.

The Exchange believes that offering Customers and Professionals the proposed tiered rebates creates competition among options exchanges because the Exchange believes that the rebates may cause market participants to select NOM as a venue to send Customer and Professional order flow. The Exchange is offering to pay increased rebates for Customer and Professional liquidity between 25,000 to 34,999 contracts per day in a month, which additional order flow should benefit other market participants.

The Exchange operates in a highly competitive market comprised of eleven U.S. options exchanges in which sophisticated and knowledgeable market participants can readily send order flow to competing exchanges if they deem fee levels at a particular exchange to be excessive. The Exchange believes that the proposed rebate structure and tiers are competitive with rebates and tiers in place on other exchanges. The Exchange believes that this competitive marketplace impacts the rebates present on the Exchange today and substantially influences the proposals set forth above.
